International

Beaconsfield Golf Club

Beaconsfield, UK (England)

<https://www.beaconsfieldgolfclub.co.uk>

Beaconsfield is a beautifully presented, classic Harry Colt designed course with excellent practice facilities. The course remains near the same as when it was originally designed in 1913 by HS "Harry" Colt and has many of his trademark features. In particular it is very well bunkered and has unusually large greens.

Western Gailes Golf Club

Irvine, UK (Scotland)

<https://westerngailes.com/>

Western Gailes dates back over 125 years to 1897, when the earliest golfers used to arrive on the train south from Glasgow. Stretching to over 7,000 yards from the championship tees, the entire links lies between the sea and railway. Western Gailes is most certainly as traditional, attractive and testing a Scottish links as you could wish to find.
